COMPANY ANNOUNCEMENT

Melbourne, Australia, 01 October 2025

ASX: CUV | Börse Frankfurt: UR9 | ADR Level I: CLVLY

Management update

CLINUVEL today announced that Dr Philippe Wolgen has resumed his duties as Chief Executive Officer of the Group alongside his Managing Director responsibilities. In order to allow Dr Wolgen to maintain focus on specific projects, Lachlan Hay has returned to the role of Chief Operations Officer with increased responsibilities for the day-to-day management of the Group.

“I am grateful to the Board, executives and wider CLINUVEL team for their support over the last six months, which has enabled the business to continue delivering on its objectives,” Dr Wolgen said. “While much of this progress has occurred behind the scenes, full recruitment of the CUV105 study and the recent European label extension are clear public highlights, with much more planned for the coming months. With a shift in some executive responsibilities on a permanent basis, I can continue to focus more intensively on specific and larger projects, including our planned Nasdaq uplisting of our ADR program and our clinical and commercial plans in vitiligo.”
